

More Information on Agritourism

from Dr. Carol Kline, Assistant Professor for the Center for Sustainable Tourism at East Carolina University in North Carolina

For more information, check out some of the sources below or search online for “farm tourism” and “agritourism.” There is a wealth of information available on the web from service providers, tourism offices, agritourism associations, and farms currently engaged in agritourism.

- North Carolina Department of Agriculture - Office of Agritourism Resources <http://www.ncagr.com/agritourism/>
- Virginia Cooperative Extension Agritourism Online Workbook
<http://www.ext.vt.edu/pubs/agritour/310-003/310-003.html>
- University of Arizona Direct Farm Marketing and Tourism Handbook
<http://ag.arizona.edu/AREC/pubs/dmkt/dmkt.html>
- University of California Division of Agriculture & Natural Resources
<http://sfp.ucdavis.edu/agritourism/>
- Appalachian Sustainable Agricultural Project – Farm Promotion and Support Program
<http://www.asapconnections.org/farmpromotionandsupport.pdf>
- North American Farmers Direct Marketing and Agritourism Association
<http://www.nafdma.com/>